

1. What birds do you know?

The pictures show birds that are commonly found in gardens

- Match the picture with the correct name.

Blue Tit

Goldfinch

Robin

Blackbird

Collared Dove

Chaffinch

Each of these birds are very different from one another and they all have individual characteristics which help to make them unique.

- Using the space on the right hand side label one characteristic onto each of the birds which makes it different from the others.

2. Making a bird feeder

A step by step guide

You will need

- One small pine cone
- Half a block of lard
- Bird seed
- Dried meal worms
- Large plate or tray
- Scissors
- String

Collect all the equipment together that you will need

1. Tie a piece of string onto your pine cone

2. Place the lard in the tray and cut into small pieces. Squash it flat into a paté

5. Once the pine cone is fully covered in lard and bird feed, it is ready to hang up outside

4. Roll the lard paté around your pine cone until it is fully covered

3. Press the bird seed and dried meal worms into the lard

We would love to see any bird feeders you make at home. Don't forget to take a photo of your feeder and post it on twitter for a chance of having it shown in our next episode. Ask an adult for help and don't forget to tag us using #PrimaryNatureLive. Good luck!
